

	1	2	3	4	5	Points
Background	Sequence of information is difficult to follow. Passages have been plagiarized or not adequately cited. Section is replete with grammatical errors.	Delegate provides a loose understanding of the topic history. While some relevant details are included, the section does not present a thorough understanding of the topic history. Occasional grammatical & citational errors.	Delegate provides an adequate understanding of the topic's history. Most of the important information is covered. Information is presented in a logical sequence that the reader can follow.	Sequence of information is logical and engaging. The section covers all important dates while maintaining brevity and conciseness. Grammatical and citational errors are far and few.	Sequence of information is logical and engaging. There is no doubt that the delegate possesses a thorough understanding of the topic's history. All important events are addressed. Very few grammatical and citational errors.	_____/5
International Involvement	Sequence of information is difficult to follow. Information regarding relevant UN resolutions and NGO involvement is scant. Passages have not been adequately cited. Section is replete with grammatical errors.	Delegate provides a loose understanding of relevant international involvement. Sequence of information is somewhat difficult to follow. Occasional grammatical & citational errors.	Delegate provides an adequate understanding of international involvement. Paper includes information on many important UN resolutions and instances of NGO involvement. Information is presented in a logical sequence that the reader can follow.	Sequence of information is logical and engaging. Most of the relevant UN resolutions and NGOs have been addressed. Grammatical and citational errors are far and few.	Sequence of information is logical and engaging. Relevant UN resolutions and instances of international involvement have been articulately presented. It is clear to the reader that the delegate possesses a thorough understanding of the information.	_____/5
Country Policy and Solutions	Sequence of information is difficult to follow. Section provides an incorrect assessment of country policy. Citational and grammatical errors are common.	Delegate provides a loose understanding of country policy. Sequence of information is somewhat difficult to follow. While some important details are included, it is clear to the reader that the author does not possess a thorough understanding of their country's policy on the issue.	Delegate provides an adequate understanding of country policy. Information is presented in a logical sequence that the reader can follow. Section provides an accurate assessment of country policy, but could use more proposed solutions.	Sequence of information is logical and engaging. Section provides enough necessary information for the reader to identify the country's policy. Section includes a good number of proposed solutions. Grammatical and citational errors are far and few.	Sequence of information is logical and engaging. Delegate provides an accurate and thorough assessment of country policy. The reader can easily discern the country's stance on the issue. Section contains many well-informed solution proposals.	_____/5 x 2 = _____/10
Total						_____/20

As an academic conference, BruinMUN strictly prohibits plagiarism or the use of other's work without citations or due credit. Plagiarism can take many forms, but is most commonly observed in written work, such as position papers. The use of ChatGPT or other AI tools will be recognized as plagiarism and is not tolerated whatsoever. If there is any evidence of plagiarism in written work, the delegate(s) will not be eligible for an award. Delegations with multiple cases of plagiarism may be reconsidered for delegation awards. It is the responsibility of the delegate and advisor to prevent cases of plagiarism.

Position papers are required for all General Assembly, ECOSOC, and Specialized committees, including Novice. Crisis delegates, including Novice Crisis, should NOT write or submit position papers.